

Department of Linguistics
Senior Thesis Colloquium

Friday, April 26th, 2019

12pm – 5:30 pm

Emerson Hall, 105

Program
12:00	opening remarks (Prof. Kevin Ryan, DUS)
12:10	Samantha Berman The influence of teacher attitudes in indigenous language bilingual programs
12:40	Athena Braun Presuppositions and synchronous Tree-Adjoining Grammar
1:10	Aidan Connaughton Language ideologies and linguistic relativism in Catalonia and Valencia
1:40	Rebecca Jarvis Factivity and polarity in Modern Greek and Japanese
2:10	Taylor Joyce A unified contrastive analysis of lateral shift in American Sign Language
2:40	BREAK
2:50	Aidan Langston Fighting words: language policy, ideology, and diglossia in Catalonia and Hong Kong
3:20	Christian Savarese Efficacy of an app-based, visual-acoustic biofeedback treatment for /r/ misarticulation
3:50	Julia Strauss Knotted thoughts: an investigation towards the potential for encoding language in Inka khipus
4:20	Jad Wehbe Modality in Lebanese Arabic: An Event-relative Approach
4:50	Brian Yu Stylometric features for multiple authorship attribution
5:20	closing remarks

The Department Spring Reception will take place after the colloquium.